Q & A

How does E-Design differ from full-service interior design?

E-Design is a more affordable option which typically excludes services like physical site visits, hands-on project management, or in-person consultations commonly found in a full-service package. Furthermore, E-Design may offer less personalized attention and tailored solutions compared to a full-service option. This approach suits individuals seeking design expertise while overseeing the project independently or with a contractor's support.

How many revision opportunities are available?

You are entitled to one revision. The initial revision will encompass all necessary details to initiate your project. Should you require modifications, please notify us, and we will provide the revised version for your second and final review.

What happens if the recommended products are unavailable?

We strictly recommend in-stock items to prevent any issues with availability. Clients are advised to be prepared to make purchases promptly to avoid potential stock-related complications.

What is the expected turnaround time for receiving the design package?

The delivery time for the initial revision typically ranges from 3 to 4 weeks, depending on the number of rooms/packages being designed and our current workload.

What are the fees and payment terms?

Upon project confirmation, payment terms are as follows:

- 50% deposit upfront
- 50% upon project completion

Any additional charges for extra revisions or services beyond the agreed scope will be communicated in writing and mutually approved before implementation.
